Books on CD- They're Here!

Books on compact disc are in the libraries now!

BI, DN, ED, MC, SO, WA and CT will carry compact discs this fiscal year.

Ruby Soutiere, Materials Selection, is attempting to buy mostly unabridged audio discs.

About 51 titles are either on the shelves, checked out or on order, and they are moving fast.

Popular fiction holds the bulk of the list but Ruby is ordering classics including Pride and Prejudice, Wuthering Heights, The Red Badge of Courage and Hound of the Baskervilles and sci-fi titles including Lord of the Rings and The Hobbit.

The books on CDs are housed in plastic bags like the cassettes, except they have a blue card instead of a yellow card inserted inside the bag.

Call 231-8618 if you would like a copy of the list.

The Downtown Library Learning Center is slowly looking like a real building. The building's steel frame is going up!

Last Lines

Way back in the history of Shelflife, before it was called Shelflife, we had an editor who gave the last lines of a book.

Staff phoned in (no e-mail back then) the title and author. Those calling in the correct answer had their names printed in the next issue.

To give this contest a kick-start we are offering a prize for the first person to e-mail or call in the correct title and author. (Call 231-8618, or e-mail nlytle@mls.lib.ok.us.)

The ending of the last line is the title of the book.

Here is this month's last line:

"I laughed, poking Patrick in the arm, had to laugh at that expression in his face he'd had when we were boys..."

The Scoop

Planning Office

May 31 through June 2, Debra Jackson attended the National Conference on Race and Ethnicity, in Seattle. Her OU professor, Dr. Charles Brown, invited her to help with the NCORE (National Conference on Race and Ethnicity) program of University of Oklahoma after she expressed interest in learning about diversity and mentoring minorities. It was an all expenses paid trip and Debra said 'it was great.'

Belle Isle

Librarian Thuy Nguyen has written an article entitled Public and Private Selves: A Study of the Vietnamese Male and Female Memoirs that will be published online in The Vietnamese Studies Internet Resource Centre (VSIRC) the end of August. The Web address is www.vstudies.org.

Thuy celebrated a birthday on August 25.

Midwest City

Susie Beasley reported daughter Stormy graduated from the University of Arts and Sciences at Chickasha with a degree in biology and will be working at Oklahoma City Community College.

Christine Dettlaff's daughter Jordan won 1st place in the science fair competition at Rose Witcher Elementary School in Mustang. Jordan was in fifth grade.

Annika Thornburg was in Mexico for a week for mission work with her church.

And Dawn Hall, who recently received her master's degree in library science, just got back from a two-week river cruise to Egypt. This gift-trip was from her mom who accompanied her.

Dawn highly recommends the trip. She spent three days in Cairo, toured the Aswan area including the temples of Abu Simbel. Toured the Luxor area, and in the Valley of the Kings and Queens, saw the Temple of Isis and Philae and Queen Nefertiti's tomb.

On the flight to Egypt her luggage was stuck in Atlanta for three days.

On her next trip, Dawn said she would take an extra set of clothes on board the plane.

Warr Acres

Mary Patton reported the library is getting a new roof. Mary was very pleased with their wonderfully successful program series for the summer. More good news for the future: WA is getting their parking lot resurfaced and a sprinkler system put in.

Warr Acres will begin offering ESL classes in late August. The library is in partnership with The Adult Learning Center of the Oklahoma City Public School system.

Mary said they have had continual requests for the classes from the Hispanic, Asian and Middle Eastern communities. Commission member Jose Jiminez was very supportive and encouraged this program at Warr Acres.

Cataloging

Sullivan Hausburg, eight-year-old son of Jana Hausburg in Cataloging, was notified that a portrait he made for art class and submitted by his teacher was selected for display by Binney & Smith, makers of Crayola Crayons.

His piece, titled "Self-Portrait" will be displayed in the Crayola Dream-Makers Southwest Regional Exhibition in Tulsa. Jana and family plan to travel to Tulsa on Sept. 30 for the opening ceremony at the University of Tulsa in Phillips Hall. According to Jana, Sullivan was much more excited about the idea of receiving a plaque than he was about having his picture displayed for all to see!

Downtown Library

According to Jim Nimmo, in July, an exasperated man from Dallas came in to the library to use the Internet. It seems he and his wife had traveled to OKC via the train and left the wife's purse on the train, which was headed back to Texas.

The purse contained both their wallets, all their money, credit cards and identification. The couple needed to contact friends in Ft. Worth to tell them to pick up the purse when it arrived around 11 p.m. that night. Although they had no ID, staff at circulation determined he was a good risk and allowed him to use the Internet.

And a good Samaritan on staff at Downtown gave the man $20.

Staff Assn News

Membership Drive

Many of you as new employees may not be aware of our MLS Staff Association and its history of effort on the behalf of the welfare of the staff. Even us "ole timer's" may need our memories refreshed.

Your Staff Association was founded in 1980 to unify the staff and create a forum for problem solving. Each site in the MLS now has a representative on the Staff Association Executive Council that meets at least monthly.

Your Staff Association representatives or officers meet regularly with members of the administration, the commission, and with the administrative team. Your concerns about salaries, fringe benefits and other conditions and situations affecting your employment are voiced at these meetings. Any work-related problem that affects the staff as a whole can be addressed. The vision care added to the insurance coverage is a recent example of the administration responding to a Staff concern. On May 28, 2001 the Staff Association presented the issue of including the use of sick leave on the evaluation of personnel and that is under study.

Here are a few past examples of Staff Association involvement: establishing the Staff Development Day; a grievance review board; direct deposit to bank of choice; bereavement leave increase; prescription rider; limited benefits for part-time employees. There have been countless other opportunities when Staff Association has been able to represent Staff interests.

Your Staff Association has been active in the development of the Annual Staff Recognition event. This involves grant writing, banquet planning and arrangements plus staff pins to recognize years of service. This is in cooperation with the Administration and Friends of the Library.

Other social events and service projects are planned for your participation and enjoyment. Together we are stronger, have more fun, and make a difference. So each of you is important and we invite all staff to be a part of your organization.

To join you may contact your site representative, or send $2.00 along with your name and work location to our membership chairman, Darrie Breathwit, or to the treasurer, Regina Wolfinger at BI.

Customer Service Month

October 1 - 31

What is Customer Service Month?

Customer Service Month is a MLS sponsored event that is devoted to celebrating our Internal and external customers.

Goals of Customer Service Month Are:

1. To raise MLS staff awareness of the important role that customer service plays in our being one of Oklahoma

County's premier information, education and entertainment resources.

2. To demonstrate our commitment to providing quality customer service every day, all day.

Who can Participate?

All departments and libraries can participate. We would love to have 100 percent participation.

How can we participate?

Be creative! Have a party or open hours, decorate your library/office, serve coffee/tea, give away something, sing, dance, or just smile a lot.

Celebrate for a month, the benefits all year long!

Win a Pizza Party!

A pizza party for the department and the library with the most creative celebration, activities, etc.

Sound like fun! Ready to celebrate?

Contact Denyveta Davis at 231-8689 or ddavis@mls.lib.ok.us. It's that easy!
